

⊛ How Python is different from other languages :-

- Python is easy to learn.
- It is the fastest-growing programming language in current time.
- Python is good for starting out because the syntax of Python is very simple and understandable.
- We can create GUI in a few lines of code.
- It is used for developing many popular web products → youtube, Google, yahoo! map.
- Comparing Python with other languages :-

Python is compared with the most liked programming languages such as :-

- Python vs Java
- Python vs C++

⊛ How Python is different from other languages :-

- Python is easy to learn.
- It is the fastest-growing programming language in current time.
- Python is good for starting out because the syntax of Python is very simple and understandable.
- We can create GUI in a few lines of code.
- It is used for developing many popular web products → youtube, Google, yahoo! map.
- Comparing Python with other languages :-

Python is compared with the most liked programming languages such as :-

- Python vs Java
- Python vs C++

Python vs C++

Point of Difference	Python	C++
Length of code	Python code is 5-10 times shorter than C++ code.	C++ code is 5-10 times longer than Python code.
Easy to learn	Python code is easy to learn, use and write.	C++ is hard to understand and use because of its complex syntax.
Syntax	Python is easy to remember.	It is not much easy to remember. It has a lot of predefined syntax.
Nature	Python is dynamically typed.	C++ is statically typed.
Efficiency	Easy to maintain.	Less manageable in comparison to Python.